Madonna in a Green Velvet Chair

The Madonna Vampyra returns to the old mansion of Inverness. She sits in Jack's overstuffed green velvet armchair. When the clock begins to strike midnight, the chair begins to breathe. The Madonna struggles to get out as feathered wings unfold from the back of the chair. She finds herself a city, where the streets are lined with only the “fronts” of buildings. It is a City of Facades.

Back in Inverness, Chloe finds an old Wurlitzer jukebox in one of towers, and it still works! But this is no ordinary jukebox, as Homer finds out when he pushes a button titled “Lila,” and is drawn into this Wurlitzer of Bewitchments! 77 Minutes

League of the Green Velvet Chairs

Jack Flanders enters the Fourth Tower and disappears. Four of Jack's fans arrive, they believe they've been called to Inverness. While back home, sitting in their own green chairs, they've all had dreams about a dark castle - no one lives there, but their shadows still remain. If a dreamer should be drawn into this moonlit citadel, the hungry shadows will cling to them, and become part of the dreamer's shadow. It is Jack's green velvet chair that carries them to this Citadel of Shadows. 2 hours, 11 episodes.

DINOTOPIA

"A masterpiece of production."
AudioFile Magazine

Dinotopia by Jim Gurney

Arthur Dennison and his son, Will, are shipwrecked on a strange island inhabited by humans and dinosaurs. The dinosaurs escaped extinction by living underground, and slowly, over time, they developed a language, in fact a whole culture. This is a wise and gentle story of humans and dinosaurs of all sorts living and working together.

Out of thousands of audio dramas, Dinotopia was chosen by AudioFile Magazine as one of the eight best audio dramas ever produced. 2 hours.

Recipe for Murder

Eight mystery stories, with some eccentric characters, an occasional body, and a gentle humor throughout.

The hero, Jean-Claude, is a young sous-chef living in Montréal. In the first episode, A Sweet Death, the police arrest his close friend, Georges-Luc (who is from Haiti), charging him with murder. Jean-Claude proceeds to investigate on his own. A sweet death indeed, for this episode deals with the making of chocolates, and the descriptions are heavenly.

Each story features a different cuisine. A Sweet Death deals with not only chocolates, but all sorts of sweets (some are deadly). Besides the delicious delights each story offers, there's usually a body to go with it.

Ruby Refreshed, Complete

Composer Tim Clark spent months re-creating the music for Ruby, the Adventures of a Galactic Gumshoe. Why did he redo the music? When Ruby was produced in 1981, we had synthesizers and dinky drum machines, but none of the realistic computer-driven musical instruments we have today. Ruby is a great series, but we knew it could be even better. Tim kept the original Ruby sound track, but gave it so much more punch and pizzazz. He gave Ruby a fresh new sound. 3.5 hours.

Tiny Dreams

Tiny Dreams are little celebrations of life. These shorty stories run less than 2 minutes each, but there are 34 dreams in total, so they do add up. They may be tiny, but they have a big heart and a sweet soul. In their own strange way, they were inspired by the movies that play inside our head when we fall asleep each night. 60 minutes.
